Just What You want In an Alarm Clock

Get an Alarm Clock that will not let you go back to sleep after you have once been called. The Intermittent ALARM will do the trick. It will call you at any time in the morning that you want to be called and then if you try to go back to sleep it will ring again and keep that up every half minute for ten minutes. I have them at prices from $1.75 to $2.50.
